

A GUIDE TO YOUR INVESTMENT REPORT

We designed your investment report with three principles in mind:

- Make it personalized, straightforward and uncomplicated.
- Include both a long-term portfolio view and a short-term activity report.
- Help you effectively monitor and manage your portfolio.

Your investment report will clearly show where your money is invested, how your money is invested and how well your investments are doing.

ATB Securities Inc.

Your investment report

This section includes your personal information, the reporting period for both quarterly and monthly investment reports, and the accounts the statement covers (including both registered and non-registered accounts).

Questions

This section provides you with contact information if you have questions about your investment report or portfolio.

Change in the value of your accounts

This section summarizes the activity of your accounts for the reporting period. Quarterly reports include two time periods: the quarter covered by the report ("This period") and the year to date ("This year"). For monthly reports, "This period" is the calendar month covered by the report.

Performance of your investments

This section features a bar graph that compares the value of your portfolio with the net amount you've invested. The top bar (A) is the market value of your portfolio at the end of the period. The bottom bar (B) is the net amount you have invested (all deposits minus any withdrawals). Also displayed are past rates of return for your portfolio over distinct periods. Returns of one year or more are annualized. Returns for less than one year are stated as simple returns.

Note: This section will not appear in monthly reports.

Market value of your investments by asset class

This section features a table that shows the combined investment mix for your accounts at the end of the reporting period. The table shows only asset classes you actually hold. Investments that don't fit into specific asset class categories—like balanced mutual funds—are reported as Unclassified Investments.

Informative messages

Additional information may appear in this section, such as important reminders, helpful tips or added details about a particular section of your statement.

Performance

Using the same format as in section 4, this section contains account-specific market value changes through distinct periods.

Note: This section will not appear in monthly or quarterly single-account reports.

Activity this period

This section reports the transactions that took place in your account in chronological order through the statement period. It begins with the opening cash balance and ends with the closing cash balance.

Pages 1 and 2 of your report present a consolidated summary of your account(s).

Holdings in your account

This section details all the investments you hold in your account. Holdings in a Compass Portfolio appear first, followed by other holdings categorized by asset class. The quantity, current price and market value of investments are described for each holding and are represented as a percentage of the account.

Information about your registered account

This section appears in quarterly reports for certain types of registered accounts. Contribution and withdrawal amounts made to or from your RRSP/RRIF account(s) in that calendar year, as well as beneficiary information, are included.

11

Details of your Compass Portfolio series holdings

This section appears in quarterly reports if you have Compass Portfolio investments. It breaks down the specific underlying investments that make up the portfolio into their respective asset classes and provides the relative market value for each. It also describes each investment as a percentage of the total portfolio against the target allocation range set out by the portfolio manager.

Your investment report
For the period from April 1 to June 30, 2011

Important information about your investments

Knowing where you stand is fundamental to successful investing. We have taken great care to ensure your investment report is accurate. Please review it carefully and contact your adviser if you notice anything that does not match your records. We'll assume this investment report is correct unless you notify us within 45 days of the end of the reporting period.

Terms used in your statement

Non-registered and Registered accounts refer to the taxable status of your accounts. Registered accounts such as Registered Retirement Savings Plans (RRSPs) enable you to defer taxes.

Since inception is defined as the date your account was established with ATB Securities Inc. For accounts moved from ATB Investment Services Inc. ("ATBIS") in September 2010, since inception (for the purpose of calculating past rates of return) represents the date your account was originally opened with ATBIS.

Market changes refer to the difference between the net amount you invested and the market value for the period stated and does not include subsequent income distributions or expenses paid on your account.

Change in value refers to the difference between the net amount you invested, including subsequent deposits and withdrawals, and the current market value inclusive of income distribution and fees.

Separately refers to investments that are registered in your name and held separately from any other securities or property held by ATB Securities Inc.

Transaction cost includes any fees and commissions you paid for a transaction. The transaction cost of a purchase becomes part of the total cost of the investment. The transaction cost of a sale is included in the gain or loss for tax purposes.

Share term abbreviations: In this statement, these abbreviations have the following meanings: DSC: Deferred Sales Charge; NCI: Non-Certificate Issue (GIC/Mutual Funds); NYS: Non-Voting Shares; RS: Restricted Shares; RTS: Rights; RVS: Restricted Voting Shares; SUB: Subscription; SV: Subordinate Voting Shares; WTS: Warrants.

How we calculate your personal past rate of return

We use Modified Dietz an industry standard time-weighted method to calculate your personal rate of return that takes into account the timing of deposits and withdrawals you make in your portfolio.

Returns of one year or more are annualized. Returns of less than one year are simple returns.

Trades to settle after reporting period

Trades you made that have settlement dates after this period do not appear in this report. They will appear in your next investment report.

Bonds and accrued interest

The market values reported on the statement do not include accrued interest. The accrued interest is reported separately.

Leveraging Risk Disclosure Statement

Using borrowed money to finance the purchase of securities involves greater risk than cash resources only. If I borrow money to purchase securities, my responsibility to repay the loan and pay interest as required by its terms remains the same even if the value of the securities purchased declines.

Free Credit Balance

Any free credit balance represents funds payable on demand which, although properly recorded in our books, are not segregated and may be used in the conduct of our business.

Trustee

Canadian Western Trust Company is the trustee for: RRSP, RRIF, LIRA, LIP, LRRSP, TFSA, and RESP accounts.
